alex.morel@example.com +33 6 00 00 00 00 Lyon, France linkedin.com/in/alex-morel github.com/nem95

Full-Stack Engineer with a front-end focus and 6+ years of experience in TypeScript (React, Next.js, Node.js). I build performant, accessible and maintainable interfaces, and I am comfortable shipping the backend features behind them. Used to working closely with product and design teams, with a strong focus on code quality (reviews, pair programming, design systems). I also ship my own products.

Experience

Full-Stack Engineer @ Fleetwise, Lyon

Jul. 2024 – Nov. 2025

- Led the front-end redesign of the Pro platform (React, TypeScript) used by business clients to book and manage their deliveries.
- Standardized business flows: moved from case-by-case logic to unified user journeys, reducing functional complexity.
- Built new pages end-to-end, from the React UI to the features needed in the squad's Node.js microservices.
- Contributed to the design and development of a centralized back office replacing two legacy tools and Apps Script scripts.
- Key contributor to the internal UI Kit: new components, improvements and documentation.

Front-End Engineer @ Semantica, Bordeaux

Oct. 2020 – Jul. 2024

- Developed and evolved a data & analytics platform (insights, reporting, semantic targeting) over nearly 4 years.
- Built an insights platform with data visualizations: clients explore semantic content categories, prospects estimate their potential audience.
- Turned complex data into clear, actionable interfaces.
- Contributed to NestJS microservices and onboarded new developers.

Front-End Engineer @ Streamly, Nantes

Sep. 2018 – Aug. 2019

- Built the marketing website and the platform (sign-up, streamer dashboard, profiles) with Apollo GraphQL, plus a reusable component library.
